HISTORY OF SCIENCE SOCIETY MISSION STATEMENT

To foster interest in the history of science, promote discussion of science’s social and cultural relations, and bring this understanding to others worldwide.
Acknowledgments

Welcome to Utrecht! This is the HSS’s first meeting outside of North America, and represents a tentative step in affirming that the Society is an international body. Sister societies such as SHOT and 4S regularly meet outside the confines of North America and that they are able to do so is due to strong local support. The local arrangements group for Utrecht was vital to the 2019 HSS conference, and I am grateful to our hosts, especially the Descartes Center, for their help. The conference simply would not have happened without their assistance.

Our program co-chairs, Christine von Oertzen (Max Planck Institute for the History of Science) and Simon Werrett (University College London) dedicated untold hours to the 2019 program, trying to coordinate the more than 350 presentations for the conference. Only former program chairs know the challenges that reside in assembling the annual meeting. Simply trying to accommodate requests that range from favored presentation times to the choice of commentator can test the coolest temper. They have my deep thanks for their efforts. I am also grateful to Karen-Beth Scholthof (Texas A&M University), who chairs the Committee on Meetings and Programs. She and they have provided valuable guidance, and I am grateful for their leadership.

Our Local Arrangements Committee, chaired by David Baneke (Utrecht University), boldly handled the 1000s of details that each conference demands, and this meeting had more demands than usual. His main helpers were Ariane den Daas and Annemarijn Douwes who were simply marvelous, as was our meeting manager, Odette Jansen. They were joined by the dozens of volunteers, mostly students, who will try to make sure that delegates receive proper care.

The annual meeting would look more like a mystifying opera while a fire raged backstage without the efforts of Ryan Feigenbaum, our Society Coordinator and digital master. Ryan handled every step, from tweaking our conference-management system (in its second year), to fielding hundreds of requests for help, to posting helpful updates, to closing the books on our fiscal year, which has nothing to do with the conference but is just as important. Please give him a hearty thanks when you see him.

A conference outside of our usual North American confines offers financial challenges, and we rely heavily on sponsors and supporters to help us control expenses. I would like to recognize three in particular: the University of Notre Dame for its hosting of the Executive Office, the National Science Foundation for its support of travel grants for graduate students, independent scholars, and recent PhDs (SES-1656205), and Utrecht University’s Descartes Center. When I first started seeing the prospective costs for the meeting I began to panic, but Bert Theunissen, Director of the Descartes Center, said the expenses would not be a problem, and he has been true to his word. In the near or distant future, when you remember HSS in Utrecht, please also remember that the Descartes Center was central to any fond memory. There are many others who helped us, and a full list of supporters can be found on the back cover of the program. I appreciate, beyond words, their contributions.

And on the subject of beyond words, the HSS Executive Committee provided understanding, encouragement, and wisdom on all aspects of the meeting. These officers dedicate hundreds of hours to the HSS — they too, have my profound thanks.

Finally, I must thank you, the attendees, who make this all worthwhile. Your presence, your contributions, and your involvement create a mix that cannot be replicated. And if you are not a member of the HSS, please join us — it is our members who make all of this possible.

TRAFFIC & SAFETY IN UTRCHT

Emergency Number: 112

The center of Utrecht is very safe. There may be pickpockets, like in any busy place, but it is no problem to walk around alone at any time of day or night. The main safety hazard is also one of Utrecht’s most celebrated features: its bike culture. The conference website can tell you how to get from A to B, but it does not inform you about the laws of the Utrecht traffic jungle. So here they are:

1. In all of Utrecht, bikes are king of the road.
2. It takes a large bus or truck to intimidate a bike. Anything & anyone else is expected to give way. This even includes HSS participants.
3. Bikes don’t follow rules. Mundane things such as traffic lights, one-way streets or pedestrian zones are regarded as optional guidelines.
4. Bike parking is allowed everywhere, even where it is not (cf. rule 3). The only exception is the Drift canal, where parked bikes will be actively removed by the officials.
5. Stealing bikes is not allowed, but bike thieves also seem to adhere to rule 3. It is not unusual to have a bike lock that is more expensive than your bike (this also says something about the quality of most bikes). Incidentally, the largest bike parking garage in the world is being built near the station, with room for 12,500 bikes. Another one, with room for 4,200 bikes, is located on the other side of the station. It is not clear whether or not this will be enough space.

– David Baneke

A NOTE ON UTRECHT

When the Society first started planning a conference outside of North America, back in 2013, we naturally turned to Utrecht, which was the new site of our editorial office. Because HSS had never met in Europe, nor in any place not called Canada or the United States, we recognized that this would be an experiment; it was a way of altering the variables of our typical meeting to see what worked and what could be discarded as we sought to broaden our international stature. As plans unfolded, so did the variables, so that the 2019 conference will scarcely be recognizable to those who faithfully attend HSS. Here’s what to expect.

Why no meeting in November? Since the early 1990s, when we stopped meeting with the American Historical Association in December of certain years, the HSS has almost always met in November. When we first considered meeting in Europe, we recognized that the majority of our attendees would be coming from North America, and we knew that a November conference would be difficult for those trying to juggle the conference with their classrooms and their jobs: a feat that our non-North American colleagues are somehow able to accomplish each year. We thought it would be nice to extend the conference by a day, to allow more time for recovery from long flights and to give people more opportunities to connect, which would be difficult in November. We also wanted to use the facilities at the University, which would save us tens of thousands of dollars in a/v and wifi costs, and which would not have been possible during the term (our a/v and wifi bill for Seattle was just shy of $45,000 US). It would also give our delegates the opportunity to experience fully the largest university in the Netherlands and give delegates a sense of what HSS conferences used to be like when we regularly met on campuses.

But a particular challenge in holding a summer meeting is that many sister societies hold summer conferences, and we did not want to interfere with those. We first confirmed that the European Society for the History of Science was not meeting (their conference is biennial, in even-numbered years), and we also wanted to make sure that we did not overlap with the British Society. We tried to coordinate the timing with the ISHPSSB meeting in Oslo, which proved impossible, but we were able to synchronize the dates with the large quadrennial Division of Logic, Methodology, and Philosophy of Science and Technology, which is meeting in Prague in early August. Those dates were perfectly aligned until I receive a panicked message from our local hosts to inform us that the Jehovah’s Witnesses would be holding an international congress in Utrecht over our dates and some 45,000 JW’s would be in town leaving no hotel space for miles around. We could not move later in August so we moved a bit earlier, to July.

Where is the big box hotel? The short answer is that there is no hotel in Utrecht that could hold our meeting and even the ones with a large number of sleeping rooms do not have conference space, which we would have been forced to rent. Although there are advantages to everyone being in one location for the conference, there are also some obvious drawbacks to spending days in a large corporate structure. The advantages for the large hotel include free meeting space if we meet our sleeping block and although we are not paying for university space, we did have to rent venues that could hold large crowds for the plenary, the distinguished lecture, and the Elizabeth Paris lecture (the Janskerk, the Domkerk, and the railway museum, respectively). The advantage is that we will be in beautiful spaces, some of them dating back to the Middle Ages, and we hope that this will improve your experience. Attendees will also have a chance to see the city – Utrecht is a lovely Stad – and when we meet in a hotel, some attendees never leave the grounds.

Where is the center? Another plus for a hotel meeting is that the center of activity is located in the book exhibit and meeting registration area. “Let’s meet at the book exhibit” is a common phrase. We have tried to reproduce that for Utrecht with the exhibit (the town square) being located in Drift 21, along with registration. We will have a room there where people can relax “The Meeting Point,” and we will offer coffee and tea throughout the day. Drift 21 is a lovely building and we initially had many of our sessions located there, but the building has no lift, which immediately ruled out assigning sessions above the ground floor.

Will anyone come? Since 2/3 of the HSS membership is located in North America, we worried a great deal about attendance. We had spoken to colleagues at SHOT and 4S and they reported that their attendance for such meetings did not drop off, that people who typically did not attend their conferences would come. This has proven true with Utrecht – in fact, even more so. We saw the highest number of submissions in many years and we expect our attendance will be equal to – or may surpass – the number of delegates who attended our conferences in Chicago and San Francisco. Anyway, we are glad that you are here. If you are not a member of HSS, please join us. These conferences would not be possible without our members.

Respectful Behavior Policy

Freedom of expression and vigorous debate are crucial to scholarly exchange. The History of Science Society strongly values mutual respect and strives to provide an environment for exchange that is free from bias and intimidation. The Society is dedicated to securing a safe, hospitable, and productive environment for everyone. Accordingly, the Society deplores all harassment and is sensitive to the harm suffered by persons who experience it. We expect speakers and questioners at our meetings to demonstrate self-control and civility, even in the midst of strong disagreement, and not to engage in ad hominem attacks. Furthermore, we expect those participating in the Society’s meetings and events to treat others with respect and not to engage in behavior that is discriminatory, intimidating, threatening, or harassing. This expectation applies to our speakers, staff, volunteers, and attendees.

Nondiscrimination and Anti-Harassment Standards
The Society prohibits any unwelcome conduct that is based on an individual’s sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, race, color, religion, national origin, age, marital status, disability, or employment status and that creates an environment that a reasonable person would consider intimidating, hostile, or abusive. Harassment may include such actions as: (1) inappropriate physical contact; (2) inappropriate jokes or verbal kidding or teasing; (3) verbal abuse and epithets; (4) degrading comments; (5) the display of offensive or sexually suggestive objects or pictures; (6) conduct or comments of a lewd or lascivious nature, including subtle pressure for sexual activity; (7) repeated offensive sexual flirtations, advances, or propositions; and (8) any other conduct that the individual (or group of individuals) might reasonably find to be intimidating, hostile, offensive, coercive, or threatening. Sexual harassment does not refer to occasional compliments of a socially acceptable nature or consensual personal and social relationships.

Reporting
If an individual or group of individuals believes that they have experienced any violation of this policy at a Society meeting or event, the person or group should report the incident immediately to the Society Ombudsperson (ombudsperson@hssonline.org). Although anyone may seek advice from the Ombudsperson, only the individual or individuals alleging that they have been harassed may file a complaint. The Ombudsperson shall listen to the grievance, describe the policy and procedures, outline issues of privacy and confidentiality, and discuss possible courses of action regarding the filing or non-filing of a formal complaint. The Ombudsperson shall take all reasonable efforts to maintain in strict confidence the identity of individuals reporting an incident and the person or persons implicated in an incident. The Ombudsperson shall prepare for Council annually an aggregate, anonymized summary of all such reported incidents.

If an individual elects to file a formal complaint, that person must describe the incident in a non-confidential written statement delivered to the Ombudsperson within sixty (60) calendar days of the alleged conduct and preferably immediately following the incident. The Ombudsperson will provide the statement concurrently to the accused party or parties and to the three-person Respectful Behavior Review Committee. The accused party may elect to file a written response, and if so, the written response must be filed with the Ombudsperson within sixty (60) calendar days of receipt of the initial written complaint. The Chair of the Committee shall contact both parties to discuss the incident and determine whether there is a mutually acceptable resolution. If no such resolution can be found, the Committee shall determine whether the incident constituted harassment under the terms of this Policy. If the Committee determines the incident constituted harassment, it shall furnish a report of the incident, the Committee’s findings, and a recommended sanction, if any, to the Secretary of the Council within sixty (60) days.

Sanctions
The Council shall consider the case. If a majority of the entire Council concurs with the recommendations of the Committee, the Council Executive Committee shall issue a written reprimand including any sanctions banning the individual from future meetings and/or revoking the individual’s membership. The Secretary of the Council will report the outcome to all parties involved, which is final.

Society Ombudsperson: ombudsperson@hsonline.org

Approved by HSS Council, 7 June 2017
Statement on Scholarly Conduct

At its 18 June 2018 virtual meeting, the HSS Council endorsed the following statement on professional conduct. The statement will appear on all HSS media.

HSS believes scholarly conduct should adhere to the highest ethical and professional standards. The Society expects contributors to its publications and meetings to present original work that respects the integrity of the research process and that conforms to rigorous standards in the citation and acknowledgment of the work of other scholars. The American Historical Association’s Statement on Standards of Professional Conduct is a useful guide.

INTERESTED IN VOLUNTEERING FOR THE HSS?

We’re always looking for dedicated volunteers to help run the Society and advance the history of science. Visit our website (hssonline.org) and click on Volunteer in the sidebar to sign up.
HSS Caucuses and Interest Groups

The History of Science Society has several caucuses and interest groups to serve the numerous interests of its members. They are completely volunteer-driven and make significant contributions not only to the annual meetings, but to the Society and the field as a whole. Below are brief descriptions of each of these organizations and any sponsored sessions appearing on this year’s program. Note that membership in a caucus or interest group is not required to attend a sponsored session or business meeting. If you are curious about a particular group, please attend the business meeting and/or contact the current chair(s).

Graduate and Early Career Caucus
Co-Chairs: Kristine Palmieri & Sarah Naramore

Emerging from a collective consensus that the creation of a graduate student and early career caucus within HSS would greatly benefit the next generation of scholars, the GECC is working to improve resource offerings for these groups in the coming year, through venues that include, but are not limited to, their website, hssgecc.wordpress.com.

The chairs and officers are graduate students and early career members of HSS, who act as liaisons between the committees of the HSS and the student/early career constituency. The objective of the group is to facilitate communication between caucus members and HSS regarding their concerns, issues, and ideas, as well as potentially having representation on HSS committees in the future.

2019 SPONSORED SESSIONS AND EVENTS

- GECC Welcome Room (Daily, Drift 21, Rm. 109)
- Mentorship Meet and Greet (Tues., 23 July, 20:00-22:00, Janskerk, Kapitellkamer)
- GECC Mixer (Wed., July 24, 20:00-23:00, De Rechtbank, Korte Nieuwstraat 14)
- Women's Mentorship Event (Thurs., July 25, Drift 21, Rm. 105)
- Business Meeting (Friday, July 26, 09:00-09:45, Drift 21, Rm. 105)
- Tacit Knowledge Event: Academic Internationalisms (Friday, July 26, 09:45-11:45, Drift 21, Rm. 105)

Women's Caucus
Co-Chairs: Jenna Tonn & Alix Cooper

The Women's Caucus of the History of Science focuses on the role and status of women in the profession. The caucus serves as a forum for those interested in the history of women, as well as the wider role of gender in science, medicine, and technology. The caucus also helps sponsor and administer the Dependent Care Grants and a nursing mother’s room at the annual meeting. The co-chairs of the caucus act as a resource for the History of Science Society on questions pertinent to the role and status of women in the profession and in the Society. We also coordinate a list serve and a Facebook group: facebook.com/groups/HSSwomenscaucus/.

2019 SPONSORED SESSIONS AND EVENTS

- Gendering Development (Wed., July 24, 09:00-11:45, Drift 21, Rm. 005)
- Women’s Caucus Breakfast (Fri., July 26, 07:30-09:00, Drift 27, Eetkamer)

Early Science Forum
Chair: Anne-Laurence Caudano

The Early Science Forum represents the interests of scholars of scientific and technological work from antiquity through the seventeenth century. Our broad chronological, geographical, and subdisciplinary sweep is intended to foster communication and cooperation among scholars working on diverse topics who nevertheless face similar institutional and methodological obstacles. These include disciplinary fragmentation and marginalization, as well as the challenges posed by working primarily with materials that require additional language expertise or that prove difficult to access.

2019 SPONSORED SESSIONS AND EVENTS

- Classifications and Categories in the Early Sciences (Fri., 26 July, 09:00-09:45, Drift 25, Rm. 102)
- Business Meeting (Fri., July 26, 12:00-13:00, Drift 25, Rm. 103)

Earth and Environment Forum
Chair: Jeremy Vetter

The Earth and Environment Forum is a lively group of scholars interested in histories of knowledge about the land, sea, and sky, and in all manner of physical, human, and life sciences as they have been practiced outdoors, in transit, or on a global scale. We share a long tradition of helping to welcome students into the discipline, and we warmly encourage any interested parties to join us for our annual get-together at HSS. At these meetings we make introductions between scholars, renew friendships, and hear updates about ongoing work in the history of the environmental and earth sciences.
2019 SPONSORED SESSIONS AND EVENTS

• Business Meeting (Fri., July 26, 11:00-11:45, Drift 25, Rm. 206)

Forum for History of Human Sciences
Chair: Laura Stark

The FHHS was established to promote research, education, and scholarship in the history of human science; to provide a forum for discussion; and to foster interest in the history of human science among scholars, scientists, students, and the public.

The Forum subscribes to a broad definition of human science that encompasses such disciplines as anthropology, economics, geography, history, linguistics, political science, psychiatry, psychology, sociology, and statistics, as well as aspects of the biological and physical sciences, medicine, education, law, and philosophy.

2019 SPONSORED SESSIONS AND EVENTS

• Distinguished Lecture (Thu., 12:00-13:30, Drift 27, Eetkamer)
• The Epistemology of the “Match” (Fri., July 26, 09:00-11:45, Janskerhof 2-3, Rm. 103)

Forum for the History of Science in Asia
Chair: Minakshi Menon

FHSAsia is devoted to furthering scholarship in the history of science, medicine, and technology in Asia. It aims to promote research and education in the history of science in Asia, to provide a forum for discussion, and to foster and support international collaboration among scholars working in all areas related to the study and practice of the sciences in Asia.

2019 SPONSORED SESSIONS AND EVENTS

• Science and Its Local Readers in British India (Fri., July 26, 09:00-11:45, Drift 27, Rm. 032)
• Business Meeting (Fri., July 26, 12:00-13:15, Drift 27, Rm. 032)

Forum for the History of the Chemical Sciences
Chair: Jennifer Rampling

The Forum for the History of the Chemical Sciences (FoHCS) was organized in 2011 to facilitate the promotion of the history of the chemical sciences, broadly conceived, within the History of Science Society. Its mission is 1) to organize sessions at annual meetings of the HSS and at other meetings in which the HSS is taking part, and 2) to encourage conversations both with professional historians of alchemy and chemistry in other historical societies and historically-minded chemists in professional chemical societies in the U.S. and abroad.

2019 SPONSORED SESSIONS AND EVENTS:

- Intoxicating Histories: Chemicals and the Altered Body in the 19th and 20th Centuries (Fri., July 26, 09:00-11:45, Drift 25, Rm. 101)
- Business Meeting (Fri., July 26, 11:45-12:15, Drift 25, Rm. 101)

Forum for the History of the Mathematical Sciences
Chair: Karen Parshall

The Forum for the History of the Mathematical Sciences serves as a focal point for historians of the mathematical sciences within the History of Science Society (HSS). It became an officially recognized HSS interest group in 2008 in an effort both to encourage the participation of historians of the mathematical sciences in the HSS and to raise awareness of the subdiscipline in the history of science community, as opposed to the mathematics community where it has long been firmly institutionalized. FoHoMS has one face-to-face business and brainstorming meeting each year at the HSS and regular e-mail exchanges throughout the rest of the year.

2019 SPONSORED SESSIONS AND EVENTS

- Bourbaki Reconsidered: Origins, Operations, and Legacies (Fri., July 26, 09:00-11:45, Drift 21, Rm. 005)

Physical Sciences Forum
Chair: Ann Robinson

The HSS Physical Science Forum is a voluntary association of individuals interested in furthering scholarship in the history of the physical sciences as broadly understood, including but not limited to: physics; earth, space, and atmospheric science; astronomy; and materials science. It will help forge a more coherent community for those with a core specialty in these sub-fields with a particular emphasis on developing the connections linking these sub-fields and exploring their resonance with wider scholarship. The ultimate goals are: to foster generative dialogue and interaction within such a community for the sake of refining historiography and deepening historical insights; to maximize scholarly contributions to the history of science; and to integrate historians of physical science more closely with the history of science community.
Cosmic Stories: Astrophysics and the Invention of Cosmology in the Early 20th-Century (Fri., July 26, 09:00-11:45, Drift 13, Rm. 003)

Distinguished Lecture (Fri., July 26, 12:00-13:15, Drift 13, Rm. 004)

Forum for the History of Health, Medicine and the Life Sciences
Chair: Elizabeth Neswald

The Forum for the History of Health, Medicine, and the Life Sciences aims to create a venue at the HSS for historians of the medical and life sciences (including nursing, traditional health practices, dentistry, veterinary medicine, public health, pharmacy etc.) to engage in conversations across disciplinary and chronological boundaries around shared themes and methodological questions. It takes an inclusive approach to its represented area, in order to promote chronological, geographic and thematic diversity and broaden the potential for collaborative interactions. The Forum organizes roundtables and sessions at the HSS, collaborates with societies and associations for the history of medicine to promote cross-meeting interaction, and supports graduate student work with its essay prize.

Collections, Archives, Libraries, and Museums (CALM) Caucus
Chairs: Benjamin Gross and Pedro Raposo

The Collections, Archives, Libraries, and Museums (CALM) Caucus aims to provide a space for scholars interested in the history of collection-based institutions or efforts to mobilize collections to explore the history of science, technology, and medicine in new and creative ways. The CALM Caucus will also serve as a venue where experienced professionals can provide guidance and support to scholars seeking to pursue careers as curators, librarians, or archivists. In this organizational meeting, the CALM Caucus will focus on gauging broader interest in these topics and how best to address them at future HSS conferences.

General Meeting Information

Opening and Closing Times
Tuesday, July 23  13:00-17:30
Wed. July 24    08:00-17:30
Thurs., July 25  08:00-17:30
Fri., July 26    08:00-17:30
Sat., July 27    08:00-12:00

Registration
Drift 21, Rm. 004, Antichambre
Claim your name badge and pick up your registration materials.

Book Exhibit & HSS Cafe
Drift 21, Hall & Rm. 006
Have some coffee and tea while you peruse the latest titles in the history of science.

Meeting Point
Drift 21, Rm. 003
Meet a friend to chat or take a seat while you wait for the next session to begin.

Quiet Space
Drift 25, Rm. 104
Need to send out an email? Take a break in our quiet room.

Nursing Mother’s Room
Drift 25, Rm. 202
Privacy and other accommodations available for nursing mothers. Visit the registration desk for the key.

Session Structure
Attendees are encouraged to rotate during session. Each presentation is allotted 30 minutes. If you wanted to hear the third paper of a session, e.g., you should join the session one hour after it begins. Please note that we break from 10:00-10:15 during 09:00-11:45 sessions.

Decoding Drift
Meeting locations are provided as the building address, followed by the floor and room number. E.g., Drift 21, Rm. 005 is the street (Drift) and address number, 21. Rm. 005 is the floor number, 0, plus the room number, 05.

Please note that room capacities are strictly enforced. This number will be located near the door. In general, once all the seats are occupied, the room has reached capacity.

Wifi
Wifi is available throughout the Utrecht Campus. If your home institution supports it, you can use the eduroam network. Otherwise, use uu-visitor.

All other venues will also have wifi available, with the exception of the Domkerk, the venue for Thursday’s Prize Ceremony and Distinguished Lecture.
Abstract: As historians of science, we are all somehow engaged – whether it’s with our research, our teaching, the dynamics of our field, or thinking about how our expertise might be brought to bear on the myriad of challenges facing our world today. This year’s plenary session explores what it currently means to be an engaged historian of science with an eye toward inviting further conversation with our audience and within the history of science community more broadly. The session will feature a small number of young colleagues whose research and related activities exemplify creative forms of engagement both within and beyond our discipline. This will be followed by a presentation by Sheila Jasanoff, in which she draws on her broad expertise to reflect on how engaged scholarship deepens our understanding of the roles of science in society and of society in science.

The plenary is being supported by the Elizabeth Paris Endowment for Socially Engaged History and Philosophy of Science. The Endowment honors the life of Elizabeth Paris, a scholar who was committed to integrating the intellectual side of the history of science with its social, institutional, and policy aspects.

Moderator & Organizer: Lissa Roberts (University of Twente)

Speakers:
- Sheila Jasanoff (Harvard University)
- Edna Bonhomme (Max Planck Institute for History of Science)
- Benjamin Franta (Stanford University)
- Joppe Van Driel (Max Planck Institute for History of Science)

Opening Reception

Light hor d’oeuvres and cash bar.

Sponsored by the University of Chicago Press, Journals Division

Mentorship Meet and Greet

Organized by the Graduate and Early Career Caucus
Wednesday, 24 July 2019

09:00–11:45

BEYOND ERADICATION: GLOBAL ENTOMOLOGICAL NARRATIVES

Drift 25, Rm. 302

Moderator & Organizer: Susan Jones (University of Minnesota)

- “Pick Your Poison: Insecticides and Locust Control in Colonial Kenya,” Sabine Clarke (University of York)
- “‘Beginning of the Entomological Enterprise in China’: Jiangsu Provincial Bureau of Entomology and Its Locust Control, 1922-1931,” Yubin Shen (Max Planck Institute for the History of Science)
- “Mechanization by Insect: Multi-Species Ecologies in the Malaysian Plantationocene,” Aaron Van Neste (Department of the History of Science, Harvard University)
- “War and Insect Control in Russia / Soviet Union, 1900-1940,” Marin Coudreau (Center for Russian, Caucasian and Central European Studies, Paris.)
- “Locust Pests and Biological Control in Argentina during the First Half of the Twentieth Century,” Alejandro Martinez (Universidad Nacional de la Plata, Argentina)

BEYOND TECHNICAL AID: COLD WAR SCIENTIFIC COOPERATION IN EAST ASIA

Drift 25, Rm. 303

Moderator: Mary Augusta Brazelton (History and Philosophy of Science, University of Cambridge)

Organizers: Jaehwan Hyun (Max-Planck-Institute for the History of Science) and John DiMoia (Seoul National University)

- “Parasites and the Postcolonial: Renewed Japan-Korea Medical Collaboration and South Korean Developmentalism, 1964-Early 1970s,” John Dimoia (Seoul National University)
- “The Pacific’s Black Current: China, Japan, and the “Cooperative Study of the Kuroshio and Adjacent Regions” (CSK), 1965-1978,” Christine Luk (Department of the History of Science, Tsinghua University)
- “Commentary: Beyond Technical Aid: Cold War Scientific Cooperation in East Asia,” Mary Augusta Brazelton (History and Philosophy of Science, University of Cambridge)
CHEMISTRY IN THE NINETEENTH AND TWENTIETH CENTURIES

Drift 25, Rm. 204

Sponsored by the Society of the History of Alchemy and Chemistry

Moderator: Lissa Roberts (University of Twente)

- “Constructing Humphry Davy’s Biographical Image,” Frank James (University College London and Royal Institution)
- “Mendeleev’s Periodic System of Elements and Croatian Academy of Sciences and Arts,” Vanja Flegar (Institute for the History and Philosophy of Science, Croatian Academy of Sciences and Arts, Zagreb)
- “The Object of Secret Science: Censoring Hormone Herbicides in the Second World War,” Alison McManus (Princeton University)
- “Heuristics in Chemistry: Friedrich Paneth and Abductive Reasoning (Serendipity),” Christoph Maulbetsch (University of Stuttgart)

EARLY MODERN SCIENCE AND ART IN A GLOBAL CONTEXT

Drift 27, Eetkamer

Moderator: Surekha Davies (Utrecht University)

Organizer: Dániel Margócsy (HPS, University of Cambridge)

- “Stradanus’ Nova Reperta: A Tory Interpretation of History,” Dániel Margócsy (HPS, University of Cambridge)
- “‘Whenever the Rules... Should Fail, and Grow Tedious’: On the Limits of Perspectival Representation,” James Clifton (Sarah Campbell Blaffer Foundation)
- “Nature, Ingenuity, and Invention in Seventeenth-Century Spanish Thought: The Writings of Juan Eusebio Nieremberg (1595-1658),” Jose Ramon Marcarda (University of St Andrews)
- “The Kangaroo and Other Natural Wonders: Picturing Pacific Exploration ca. 1770,” Stephanie O’Rourke (University of St Andrews)
- “Commentary: Early Modern Science and Art in Global Context,” Surekha Davies (Utrecht University)

FLASHTALKS

Janskerhof 2-3, Rm. 013

Moderators: Bernard Lightman (York University), Marsha Richmond (Wayne State University), Johan Schot (University of Sussex)

- “‘We need to talk about Richard Owen,’” Daniela Sclavo (University College of London)
• “At Home in the Museum: The Collection of Frederik Ruysch,” Isabel Van Paasschen (Yale University)
• “Biodiversity on Display: Museological and Scientific Practices in Natural History Museums Exhibitions,” Mariana Soler (IHC - CEHFCl - University of Évora)
• “Mapping and the Microscope,” Pamela Mackenzie (University of British Columbia)
• “Natural Sciences in the Thought of Jabir ibn Hayyan,” Marziyehsادات Montazeritabar (Institute for the History of Natural Sciences, Chinese Academy of Sciences)
• “Printing Between the Lines: A Sixteenth-Century Historical Table,” Ashley Gonik (History, Harvard University)
• “Science Policy in Portugal: The Instituto Nacional de Investigação Científica (INIC),” Hugo Soares (CIUHCT, New University of Lisbon)
• “Specimens of Trade: Medical Treatments and Knowledge from Herbal Texts over Time and Space,” Marianne Jennifer Datiles (University College London)
• “The Making of a Science of Substance after Quantum Mechanics in Japan: The Emergence of ‘Busseiron’ around 1940,” Hiroto Kono (Tokyo Institute of Technology, Research Fellow of Japan Society for the Promotion of Science)
• “The Slow Appearance of Radiation Risk Perception,” Ana Rita Melo (Coimbra University, Portugal)

GENDERING DEVELOPMENT
Drift 21, Rm. 005
Sponsored by the Women’s Caucus
Moderator: Charu Singh (University of Cambridge)
Organizer: Barbara Pohl (Yale University)

• “Changing Minds: Feminist Methods in Anthropology,” Barbara Pohl (Yale University)
• “Women’s Place in Developmental Theory: From Androcentrism to Anti-Feminism,” Susanne Schmidt (Freie Universität Berlin)
• “Bloated Bellies and Bleeding Thyroids: Needling at Gendered Bodies in Acupuncture Anesthesia (1950-1970),” Lan Li (Columbia University)
• “Egypt’s TV Sexologists and the Politics of Modern Femininity,” Soha Bayoumi (Harvard University)
• “Commentary: Gendering Development,” Eli Nelson (Williams College)
HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVES ON CITIZEN SCIENCE FOR THE “POST-NORMAL” AGE
Drift 25, Rm. 102
Moderator: Sally Shuttleworth (University of Oxford)
Organizer: Deborah Coen (Yale University)

- “Science, Democracy, and the Pursuit of Aliens,” Bruno Strasser (University of Geneva)
- “Citizen, Science, and Citizen Science,” Fa-Ti Fan (Binghamton University)
- “Climate Science By and For Citizens,” Deborah Coen (Yale University)
- “Plant Research in the Age of Public Engagement,” Vanessa Sellers (New York Botanical Garden, Humanities Institute)
- “Maoist “Mass Science” and Participatory Action Research: A Case Study in the Global History of Participatory Knowledge-Making,” Sigrid Schmalzer (University of Massachusetts Amherst)

MANUSCRIPTS, INSTRUMENTS, TABLES AND COMPUTATION IN ALFONSINE ASTRONOMY
Drift 25, Rm. 206
Moderator: Rich Kremer (Dartmouth College)
Organizer: Matthieu Husson (Paris Sciences et Lettres Research University- CNRS)

- “Time, Sense Perception, and Experiential Knowledge in John of Saxony’s Epochs of Nations,” Nicholas Jacobson (CNRS SYRTE)
- “Theory and Practice of Eclipse Computations by John of Genoa in the 1330s,” Laure Miolo (CNRS SYRTE)
- “Embedding New Theory in Brass: Alfonsine Trepidation Spheres,” Samuel Gessner (CNRS SYRTE UMR 8630)
- “The Visual Culture of Alfonsine Astronomy: The Case of Getty Museum, Ludwig XII.7,” Laura Fernández Fernández (Universidad Complutense de Madrid ERC ALFA, Spain)
- “Commentary: Manuscripts, Instruments, Tables and Computation in Alfonsine Astronomy,” Matthieu Husson (Paris Sciences et Lettres Research University- CNRS)

MASTERING NATURAL KNOWLEDGE IN THE PORTUGUESE EMPIRE: TRANSFORMING BODIES, EXPLORING NATURE, GOVERNING SPACE
Drift 25, Rm. 301
Moderator: Hugh Cagle (University of Utah)
Organizer: Patrícia Martins Marcos (University of California, San Diego)

• “Medical Practices in Early 20th Century São Tomé’s Cocoa Plantations,” Marta Macedo (University of Lisbon)
• “Encounters in Africa: When Livingstone Met Welwitsch,” Sara Albuquerque (Universidade de Évora)
• “From Place to Race: Medicine, Natural Philosophy, and Human Diversity in Eighteenth-Century Brazil,” Patrícia Martins Marcos (University of California, San Diego)
• “Commentary: Mastering Natural Knowledge in the Portuguese Empire: Transforming Bodies, Exploring Nature, Governing Space,” Hugh Cagle (University of Utah)

ON THE MOVE: ANIMAL HISTORIES UNLEASHED FROM THE CABINET OF CURiosITIES

Drift 27, Rm. 032
Moderator: Harriet Ritvo (MIT)
Organizers: Lisa Onaga (Max Planck Institute for the History of Science) and Tamar Novick (Max Planck Institute for the History of Science)
• “Elephant Empire beyond the Colonial Frontier,” Marianna Szczygielska (Max Planck Institute for the History of Science, Berlin)
• “Alfred Wallace’s Baby Orangutan: A Game, a Pet, a Specimen,” Shira Shmuely (Tel Aviv University)
• “The ‘African Horse Sickness’ and the Threat of Movement,” Tamar Novick (Max Planck Institute for the History of Science)
• “More Than Just Poop: Guano in Late 19th and Early 20th Century China,” Sijia Cheng (Universität Heidelberg)
• “Commentary: On the Move: Animal Histories Unleashed from the Cabinet of Curiosities,” Lukas Rieppel (Brown University)

PREMODERN NATURE: REGULARITY, EXCEPTIONS, MANIPULATIONS

Drift 25, Rm. 105
Moderator: Elly Truitt (Bryn Mawr College)
Organizer: Yael Kedar (Tel-Hai College)
• “al-ʿĀmirī on Nature and the Arts,” Nicholas Aubin (Humboldt-University Berlin)
• “Monstrous Births in Medieval Jewish Philosophy,” Marienza Benedetto (University of Bari (Italy))
• “Matter as Epistemic Object: Intellecction, Manipulation, and Particularisation in the 13th Century,” Nicola Polloni (Institut für Philosophie, Humboldt Universität zu Berlin)
• “Laws of Nature and Nature’s Use and Manipulation According to Roger Bacon (ca. 1220-1292),” Yael Kedar (Tel-Hai College)
• “Roger Bacon’s Scientia Experimentalis as Technological Manipulation of Nature in Premodern Europe,” Jeremiah Hackett (University of South Carolina)
SLAVERY, MEDICINE, AND SCIENCE IN THE EARLY MODERN WORLD
Drift 13, Rm. 003

Moderator: Suman Seth (Cornell University)

- “Broken World Botany: Slavery and Natural Knowledge in the West African Slave Trading Zones,” Carolyn Roberts (History of Science and Medicine, Yale University)
- “Healing Waters of the Caribbean: Affliction and Hope in Creole Discourses on Water Cures,” Kristen Block (University of Tennessee)
- “Piracy, Slavery, and Eating in the Southern Pacific, 1580s-1720s,” Tamara Walker (University of Toronto, Department of History)
- “Slave Trading and the Ideation of Quantifiable Bodies in the Seventeenth Century,” Pablo Gómez (University of Wisconsin-Madison)
- “Captive Healthscapes: Slavery, Medicine, and Natural Inquiry in Early Modern Italy,” Lucía Dacome (University of Toronto, Institute for the History and Philosophy of Science and Technology)
- “The Known and the Lived: Melitta Schiller-Stauffenberg,” Daniela Helbig (University of Sydney)
- “On Ways of Dying: Biographies of Metaphors and the History of Science,” Lily Huang (The University of Chicago)
- “Of Ideas and Ideals: Biography as Analytic Tool,” Joan Richards (Brown University)

10:00–10:15

COFFEE BREAK ☕
Drift 21, Hall; Janskerkhof 2-3, Pantry; and Drift 27, Near Library & Courtyard

12:00–13:00

OSIRIS: PRESENTING PAST FUTURES
Drift 13, Rm. 004

Moderator: Patrick McCray (University of California, Santa Barbara)

Speakers:
- Suman Seth (Cornell University)
THE EARLY MODERN KNOWLEDGE SOCIETY

Drift 25, Rm. 102

Moderator: Fokko Jan Dijksterhuis (University of Twente/Vrije Universiteit)

Speakers:
- Bert De Munck (University of Antwerp)
- Thijs Weststeijn (Utrecht University)
- Inger Leemans (Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam)
- Fokko Jan Dijksterhuis (University of Twente/Vrije Universiteit)

THE HISTORY OF GENERATION: TOWARDS A FULLER STORY

Janskerhof 2-3, Rm. 013

Moderator: Rebecca Flemming (University of Cambridge)

Speakers:
- Rebecca Flemming (University of Cambridge)
- Leah Astbury (Department of History and Philosophy of Science, University of Cambridge)
- Anna Freidin (University of Michigan)
- Maaike Van Der Lugt (Université de Versailles (Paris Saclay))
- Ulrike Steinert (Johannes Gutenberg-University Mainz)
- Carmen Caballero-Navas (University of Granada, Spain)

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE AND CAUCUS CHAIRS

Drift 25, Rm. 101

CHILDREN OF SCIENCE

Drift 13, Rm. 004

Moderator: David Robertson (Princeton University)

Organizer: Carola Ossmer (Leuphana Universität Lüneburg)

- “Raising a Well-Grown Child: Material and Media Cultures of Normal and Pathological Childhood,” Felix Rietmann (University of Fribourg)
- “Normal Children: Developmental Research and Educational Film for the New Deal,” Carola Ossmer (Leuphana Universität Lüneburg)
- “Children as Scientists: Ontogeny and the Social Construction of Cognition,” Jamie Cohen-Cole (George Washington University)
Wednesday, 24 July 2019 | 13:30–15:30

• “Commentary: Children of Science,” Henry Cowles (University of Michigan)

CONDITIONS OF DIFFERENCE: SCHOLARLY MIGRATION AND MEDICAL BOOK PRODUCTION IN THE 17TH CENTURY

Drift 13, RM. 003

Moderator: Harold Cook (Brown University)
Organizer: Anja Goeing (Harvard University)

- “Practising Medicine in Early Colonial Lima, Peru,” Linda Newson (Institute of Latin American Studies, University of London)
- “Preparing Princes or Who May Preserve the Ruler for Eternity?” Ulrich Schlegelmilch (Universität Würtzburg)
- “Pupils Gone Putrid: The Moral and Intellectual Perils of Medical Peregrinations,” Joel Klein (The Huntington Library)
- “The Migration of Medical Dissertation Techniques from One Generation to the Next,” Anja Goeing (Harvard University)

FORENSIC FRAMEWORKS OF INNOCENCE

Drift 21, RM. 005

Moderator: Fenneke Sysling (Descartes Centre, Utrecht University)
Organizer: Projit Bihari Mukharji (University of Pennsylvania)

- “Spontaneous Innocence: Physiological Knowledge in Medical Jurisprudence in British India, ca. 1856-1918,” Projit Bihari Mukharji (University of Pennsylvania)
- “Innocence in Cases of Infanticide: Dutch Forensic Medicine and Psychiatry, 1925-1950,” Willemijn Ruberg (Utrecht University)
- “Erle Stanley Gardner’s “Court of Last Resort” and the Pursuit of Wrongful Conviction in Cold War America,” Ian Burney (CHSTM, University of Manchester)
- “Technologies of Innocence and Guilt: The Introduction of New Forensic Technologies in Dutch Courtrooms,” Lara Bergers (Utrecht University)

LANDSCAPES OF KNOWLEDGE: STORIES OF AGRICULTURAL SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

Drift 27, Rm. 032

Moderator: Karen Scholthof (Texas A&M University)
Organizer: Bradley Jones (Washington University)

- “Alternative Knowledge, Alternative Agriculture: Science for Life on a Damaged Planet,” Bradley Jones (Washington University)
- “Wet Knees and Cuckoo Holes: On the Materiality of Knowledge in the Dutch Dairy Sector,” James Babbitt
• “Queens and Genes: Making Knowledge of Microbial Resistance,” Andie Thompson (University of Amsterdam)

LIFE SCIENCES IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

Drift 25, Rm. 102

Moderator: Sam Muka (Stevens Institute of Technology; Lady Science)

- “A Web of One’s Own: Female Entomologists’ Scientific Networks in Late 19th Century and Early 20th Century Britain,” L. Joanne Green (University of Cambridge)
- “Houseflies and Fungi: The Septic Fringe and the Emergence of an Edwardian Biotechnology,” Matthew Holmes (University of Cambridge)
- “Libraries of Life: Microbial Culture Collections and the Chemical Order of Nature,” Charles Kollmer (Princeton University)
- “Correcting Life through the Marketplace? The History of Genome Editing and Academic Capitalism in South Korea,” Doogab Yi (Seoul National University)

MATERIALS RESEARCH AND ITS TOOLKIT

Janskerhof 2-3, Rm. 013

Moderator: Cyrus Mody (Maastricht University)

Organizer: Joseph D. Martin (University of Cambridge)

• “Too Many Cook(books) Spoil the Broth: Handbooks as Objects of Disciplinary Division,” Joanna Behrman (Johns Hopkins University)
• “New Tools for Making New Materials,” Cyrus Mody (Maastricht University)
• “Knowing Materials,” Joseph D. Martin (University of Cambridge)
• “Panel Discussion: Materials Research and Its Toolkit”

MEASURING HEADS AND RACES: CONTINUITIES AND RUPTURES IN THE HISTORY OF BIOMETRY

Drift 25, Rm. 302

Moderator: Luc Berlivet (French National Centre For Scientific Research (CNRS))

Organizer: Iris Clever (UCLA)

• “Facing the Past: Ancient Skulls and National Identity in the Middle East,” Elise Burton (University of Cambridge)
• “Skulls and Statistics: Karl Pearson and Competing Methods of Classifying Races in the Early 20th Century,” Iris Clever (UCLA)
• “What Is a Normal Face? Karl Pearson’s Principal Component Analysis, Facial Recognition Technologies, and Race,” Abigail Nieves Delgado (Ruhr University Bochum)
• “Reconstructing Human Faces from DNA: Competing Methodologies and the Quest for Replicability,” Irene Pasquetto (Harvard University)

MEDIATING SCIENCE

Drift 25, Rm. 301

Moderator: Marianne Jennifer Datiles (University College London)

• “Telling Histories of the Republic of Letters in the 18th Century: ‘History of Learning’ as Expression of Growing Self-Awareness of an International Community of Scholars and Scientists,” Dirk Van Miert (Descartes Centre, Utrecht University)

• “Revisiting Wilhelm Ostwald’s Nobel Prize in Chemistry,” Letícia Dos Santos Pereira (Universidade Federal da Bahia, Brazil)

• “Staging the Natural Sciences: An Influential Cross-Platform Natural History Storytelling Strategy (Spain, 1960s-1970s),” Carlos Tabernero (Centre for the History of Science, Autonomous University of Barcelona - ESQ0818002H)

• “On the Early Postwar Public Culture of History of the Science Museum, London,” Tim Boon (Science Museum Group)

SELF-TRACKING, SELF-MAKING, AND THE HISTORY OF SCIENCE

Drift 25, Rm. 303

Moderator: Volker Hess (Charité Berlin)

Organizer: Fenneke Sysling (Descartes Centre, Utrecht University)

• “Benchmarking the Self: François-Marc-Louis Naville and His Moral Tables,” Harro Maas (University of Lausanne)

• “Data Rituals: Measurement of Height and Weight in Baby Books, 1872-1940,” Fenneke Sysling (Descartes Centre, Utrecht University)

• “Guidance Counseling in the Midcentury United States: Measurement, Grouping, and the Making of the Intelligent Self,” Jim Porter (Hugo Valentin Centre, Uppsala University)

UTOPIA AND CATAclySM: THE SCIENCES OF PREDICTION AND THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Drift 25, Rm. 105

Moderator: Marcel Boumans

Organizer: Max Ehrenfreund (Harvard University)

• “Quantifying Uncertainty: The Failure of the First World Business Barometer,” Laetitia Lenel (Humboldt-University Berlin)

• “Statistics and Public Health at the League of Nations,” Heidi Tworek (University of British Columbia)

“The World Economy as Scientific Object, 1930-1939,” Max Ehrenfreund (Harvard University)

“The World Order of the League of Nations,” Erwin Dekker (Erasmus School of History, Culture & Communication)

BEFORE THE PDF: WRITING, PUBLISHING AND MEASURING SCIENCE, CA. 1945-1980S

Drift 21, Rm. 005

Moderator: Michael Hagner (ETH Zürich)

Organizers: Alrun Schmidtke (Humboldt-Universität Zu Berlin; Gerda Henkel Scholar) and Mathias Grote (Humboldt-University Berlin)

• “‘Nations Can Publish or Perish? Scientific Metrics and Development,” Alex Csiszar (Harvard University)

• “The Role of International Journals in Epistemic, Political, and Community-Building Processes in Postwar Science: BBA’s Celebration Volume of 1989,” Dorien Daling (University of Groningen, Department of History)
Wednesday, 24 July 2019 | 16:00–18:00

- “Total Knowledge in Teutonic Tomes? Encyclopedic Handbooks in the Chemical Sciences, ca. 1930-1960,” Mathias Grote (Humboldt-University Berlin)

GLOBAL MEDICINE
Drift 13, Rm. 003

Moderator: Gwen Kay (SUNY Oswego)

- “Local Lives, Global Networks: Disease, Medicine, and the Entangled Histories of Assam Tea Plantations (1900-1930s),” Sudip Saha (Department of History, North-Eastern Hill University, India.)
- “A Global Rumor and the History of Science: The Case of a Fake Snakebite Prize That Connected Brazil, the French, and the British Empires (1880-1914),” Matheus Alves Duarte Da Silva (Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Sciences Sociales)
- “Same Story, Different Setting: Using Goiter to Understand Calls for American Science at the Turn of the Nineteenth Century,” Sarah Naramore (Sewanee: the University of the South)

HISTORY OF CONFERENCES
Drift 27, Rm. 032

Moderator: Dora Vargha (University of Exeter)
Organizer: Geert Somsen (Maastricht University)

- “Laboratories of Cooperation: UNRRA’s Conferences,” Jessica Reinisch (Birkbeck College, University of London)
- “Meet the Elite: Nobel Symposia and Scientific Exclusivity,” Sven Widmalm (Dept for History of Science and Ideas, Uppsala University)
- “Chemical Bonding: Ritual and Community-Formation at Chemistry Conferences, 1921-22,” Geert Somsen (Maastricht University)
- Panel Discussion: “History of Conferences”

IMAG(IN)ING SPACE: FIDELITY AND ARTISTIC LICENSE IN PURSUIT OF THE HEAVENS
Drift 25, Rm. 302

Moderator: David Devorkin
Organizer: Matthew Shindell (Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum)

- “With “Scrupulous Fidelity” and “Majestic Beauty”: The Science and Art of E. L. Trouvelot’s Astronomical Drawings (1882),” Lacey Baradel (Independent scholar)
• “The Moon as It Should Have Been: Chesley Bonestell and the Pre-Apollo Lunar Landscape,” Lois Rosson (UC Berkeley)

• “Imaging the Planets in 3D: The Introduction of Computer Art at NASA’s Jet Propulsion Laboratory,” Rebecca Perry (Independent scholar)

• “The Future as We’ve Shown It: The Human Future in Space as Seen in Science Fiction,” Matthew Shindell (Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum)

MANAGING ENVIRONMENTS FROM A DISTANCE: TRANSNATIONAL SCIENCE AND POLICY DURING THE GREAT ACCELERATION

Drift 13, Rm. 004

Moderator: Deborah Coen (Yale University)

Organizer: Raf De Bont (Maastricht University)

• “The Data of Development: North-South Tensions in the International Hydrological Decade, 1965-1974,” Etienne Benson (University of Pennsylvania)

• “From Green to Blue: Ocean Conservation and Earth System Sciences,” Lino Camprubí

• “Managing Mexican Crop Diversity from Rome,” Helen Anne Curry (University of Cambridge)

NARRATING GLOBAL ENVIRONMENT CHANGE: SOVIET INTERVENTIONS IN THE CLIMATE CHANGE & EARTH SCIENCE DEBATES OF THE LATE TWENTIETH CENTURY

Drift 25, Rm. 301

Moderator: Martin Mahony (University of East Anglia)

Organizer: Jonathan Oldfield (University of Birmingham, UK)

• “A Hero’s Counsel: Communist Climate Policy at the 1979 World Climate Conference,” Vladimir Jankovic (Centre for the History of Science, Technology and Medicine, University of Manchester)

• “Geophysical Collaboration under the U.S.-U.S.S.R. Environmental Agreement of 1972: Peaceful Coexistence, Collaborative Circles, and Friendship Dynamics,” Anna Amramina (University of Minnesota)

• “Soviet and Russian Studies of Long-Term Climate Change in Antarctica: The International Context,” Denis Shaw (University of Birmingham, UK)

• “Past Climates, Volcanoes, and Earth Analogues: Soviet Articulations of Climate Futures,” Jonathan Oldfield (University of Birmingham, UK)
POPULATION VARIABILITY AND HUMAN TYPES: EXPLORING THE SCIENTIFIC USES OF RACE FROM THE 1940S TO THE 1990S

Drift 25, Rm. 303
Moderator: Soraya De Chadarevian (University of California Los Angeles)
Organizer: Luc Berlivet (French National Centre For Scientific Research (CNRS))

• “Interracial Encounters in an Era of Identity Politics: The Study of Population Admixtures in Italy after the Second World War,” Luc Berlivet (French National Centre For Scientific Research (CNRS))
• “Many Shades of “Race”: Variations in the Concept of Race in French Sero-Anthropology between the 1940s and the 1970s,” Claude-Olivier Doron (Université de Paris)
• “What “Race” Does: Pluralism in Post-WWII Population Genetics,” Lisa Gannett (Saint Mary’s University, Halifax, Canada)
• “Population Genetics, Genetic Variation, and the Monomorphism of the Human Species,” Jean-Baptiste Grodwohl (Université Paris Diderot - SPHERE)

SCIENCE AND FILM

Drift 25, Rm. 206
Moderator: Hansun Hsiung (Max Planck Institute for the History of Science / Durham University)

• “Moving on the Wall: Performing Organisms with the Solar Microscope,” Janina Wellmann (Leuphana Universität Lüneburg)
• “Silent Film in the History of Science: Jean Comandon, a Case Study,” Maia Woolner (UCLA)
• “Moving Pictures: Sociobiology and Public Persuasion,” Cora Stuhrmann (Ludwig-Maximilians-Universitaet Munich)
• “Scientific Animations: Filmology, Experiment, and the Human Sciences,” Sigrid Leyssen (Bauhaus-Universität Weimar)

SOUNDS OF LANGUAGE, LANGUAGES OF SOUND: HISTORIES OF THE HUMANITIES AND SCIENCES

Drift 25, Rm. 204

Moderator: Alexandra Hui (Mississippi State University)
Organizers: Viktoria Tkaczyk (MPIWG) and Julia Kursell (University of Amsterdam)

• “A Note on Tone: Carl Stumpf’s Tone Psychology and the Violin,” Julia Kursell (University of Amsterdam)

• “The Languages of Sound: Pitch Data across Fields, Disciplines, and Nations in Europe and the United States (1877–1900),” Fanny Gribenski (Max Planck Institute for the History of Science, Berlin)

• “Between Signal and Symbol: Sound, Speech, and the Data of Language,” Xiaochang Li (Stanford University)

THE BIOLOGY OF SEX AND DEVELOPMENT

Drift 25, Rm. 102

Moderator: Susanne Schmidt (Freie Universität Berlin)

Abstract: What are the narratives that guide the history of science? For sure one of the more recent ones was “science in action,” the emphasis on practices and the imperative on studying science as performed. Perhaps not surprisingly, this story has itself a history, which starts in the early 1960s, when the project “Sources for History of Quantum Physics” was established. The main task of Thomas Kuhn’s, John Heilbron’s and Paul Forman’s work, lasting three years, was to interview old heroes of Quantum Mechanics and to archive the spoken word. While giving an account of the project’s history, this talk will focus on analyzing the process of interviewing and characterize its wider context. Not only does their approach offer us important insights into the shaping of the persona of the scientist, it also presents an important step towards the post-Kuhnian way of doing history of science.

ELIZABETH PARIS PUBLIC ENGAGEMENT LECTURE: IN EUROPE
Railway Museum, Maliebaanstation 16

Moderators: Deborah Coen (Yale University) and Bert Theunissen (Descartes Centre, Utrecht University)

- “A Musical Story of Time,” Susanna Bloem
- “In Europe,” Jeroen Van Dongen

Abstract: As the History of Science Society, which is based in America, holds its annual meeting in Utrecht, one of the key academic centers on the European continent, one may surmise that the field has returned home. Yet, this hardly reflects how today’s world of scholarship is constituted: in the historiography of science, “provincializing Europe” has become an important theme, while the field itself, as is the case across the world of academia, is centered around a predominantly American literature. At the same time, ever since historians of science have emancipated themselves from the sciences a long time ago, they often have appeared, in the public eye, to question rather than to seek to bolster the authority of the sciences. How has this situation come about, and what does it tell us about the world we live in today? What insight is sought and what public benefit is gained by the historical study of science? As we try to answer these questions, we will follow a number of key mid-twentieth century historians in their Atlantic crossings. Their answers to debates on the constitution of the early modern ‘scientific revolution’ or the novelty of the work of Albert Einstein will illustrate how notions of ‘center’ and ‘periphery’ have shifted—and what that may tell us about being ‘in Europe’ today. Jeroen van Dongen is Professor of History of Science at the University of Amsterdam. He studies black holes, Einstein, and themes that cut across science in its Cold war contexts and general questions of how to conduct historiography. He has taught and researched at Utrecht University, the Max Planck Institute for the History of Science in Berlin, and the Einstein Papers Project at Caltech.

The lecture is being supported by the Elizabeth Paris Endowment for Socially Engaged History and Philosophy of Science. The Endowment honors the life of Elizabeth Paris, a scholar who was committed to integrating the intellectual side of the history of science with its social, institutional, and policy aspects.

Opportunities for research

The CSHL archives on Long Island, New York are a major repository of primary material on the history of modern biology with a concentration on molecular biology, genetics, and biotechnology (1890-present).

CSHL’s Center for Humanities & History of Modern Biology awards several annual research fellowships and hosts talks, conferences, and workshops on the history of science and other disciplines.

Institutional Archives

Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences (1890-1924)
Carnegie Institution of Washington (1904-1971)
  • CIW Eugenics Record Office
  • CIW Department of Genetics

Research funds

Sydney Brenner Scholarship

Awards up to $5,000 to fund travel and other expenses associated with working on a research project involving CSHL archives collections.

Research Travel Grants

Award up to $1,000 for onsite use of CSHL archives. Funds may be used for travel, lodging, and other expenses for research trips of any duration.

ELIGIBILITY: scholars in relevant disciplines at any career stage, writers, filmmakers, etc.

Information and many digitized collections available on the web at http://library.cshl.edu/archives/and the History of Science Society invite participants in HSS sessions to continue your discussions online.

The Consortium hosts online working groups for scholars from around the world. These small groups engage in specialized discussion of drafts by participants, as well as other readings of interest.

The groups typically meet monthly for a semester or a year. Participants in each meeting number from six to twenty. Group membership is open to all members of the Consortium and HSS communities.

For further information, and to propose a new group, please see www.chstm.org

Hear more at the Consortium reception on Wednesday evening.
The Descartes Centre coordinates research in the field of history and philosophy of the sciences and the humanities at Utrecht University. The Centre was founded in 2007 as an interdisciplinary collaboration, supported and financed by all Utrecht University faculties. The Centre offers a multidisciplinary MSc program and organizes symposia, conferences, and seminars, and also supports a fellowship program.

Master's program History and Philosophy of Science
The Master's program in History and Philosophy of Science (HPS) offers a unique opportunity to study the foundations, practices, and culture of the sciences and the humanities from historical and philosophical viewpoints. 20-25 students from all disciplinary backgrounds start the two-year program each year. There are three thematic focus areas: History of Science and/or the Humanities, Philosophy of Science, and Foundations of Physics. The program is both broad and flexible and offers excellent career opportunities: some forty percent of the graduates continue to a PhD.

Fellowships
The Descartes Centre offers fellowships to promote intellectual exchange and collaboration in the domains of the history, the philosophy, and the foundations of the sciences and the humanities. Junior and senior fellowships are available for three months or less. The annual deadline for applications is 1 March.
